

Lab 6

Write a matrix multiply for MPI that computes $C = A \times B$. A should be row distributed, B should be column distributed, C is row distributed. The program in Lab7MM.c has most of the logic, but you will need to add in the MPI code. Note that B is column-major order.